Music Internship

Introduction

The Music Internship is the crucial final link in the training process for those entering the music ministry. The internship involves a team comprised of the student, supervisor, pastor and university supervisor. We are delighted to have you as part of the team.

The Music Internship is offered in the interest of integrating university instruction with the practical learning experience of on-the-job training in a church. The program is designed to:

1. Acquaint the student with the organization and administration of the music program in a model church. This includes staff and departmental structure, planning, record keeping promotion and execution of all phases of the music ministry of the church;
2. Expose the student to the values, attitudes, techniques, and duties of a dedicated, disciplined, successful pastor and music minister;
3. Give the student experience in the total aspects of the church;
4. Acquaint the student with staff relationships and responsibilities in the church.

This handbook is provided to help clarify the roles and expectations of all parties in involved in the internship.

Placement Process

1. Approval for the location of the internship and internship supervisor must be obtained from the instructor by way of the Internship Prospectus (Appendix A). All internships must be done in an approved location. Students who are credentialed with (or plan to be credentialed with) the Assemblies of God MUST select an Assemblies of God church. Non-Assemblies of God locations must be approved by the Dean of the College of Bible/Church Ministries.
2. A student will be placed only in a church where the pastor, music minister, and church leadership want to participate with the program, and are willing to dedicate enough time, learning and participation opportunities to make the experience of optimum benefit to the student. The church should be large enough to enable the student to have the opportunity to participate in at least eighty percent (80%) of the activities listed on the Requirements page of the Music Internship Manual.
3. The student should not complete an internship in a church that is too small to facilitate learning, or does not have a designated music minister. Although starting a music ministry format at a church would be a great experience; this, however, defeats the purpose of the internship - to learn from a mentor who already knows how to run an effective music ministry in a church. A song leader cannot usually supply the in-depth work needed to make an internship successful.
4. The student receives three credit hours on the SAGU transcript as academic course work; therefore, the supervisor must be someone who can provide proper “hands-on” experience as well as quality instruction for the student.

Role and Responsibility of the Internship Student

1. Meet for the first class period for opening orientation. Instruction is given in regards to the course work and internship plan.
2. Make yourself available to observe and participate as much as possible in all church and music ministry functions, and for counseling and instruction.
3. Be punctual at all appointments and services. Be cordial and cooperative with the music minister, pastor and church leaders. Take the initiative (tactfully) in seeking learning experiences.
4. Submit the Internship Plan to the instructor which has been constructed with the internship supervisor (Appendix B).

NOTE: Internship supervisors and students must follow the internship plan and the core requirements checklist once it has been approved. Changes in the plan must be approved by the instructor.

5. Keep a journal of internship activities. The journal will contain questions/comments that emerge from daily experiences, self-evaluations, reports on weekly planning sessions, observations concerning rehearsal techniques, audiovisual techniques, program notes, information about new music, etc.
6. Complete the internship assignment with a minimum of 120 clock hours of supervised activities during the semester.
8. Part I: Perform as many of the items and fill in as many of the questionnaires in Part I of the Manual as possible.
9. Part II: Participate in the activities as frequently as possible. Make notations of the activities through additional pages added to this section of the Manual.
10. Part III: Create a music filing system. (This requirement may have already been fulfilled if the student has taken the Principles and Practices of Music Ministry course. Attach that file to the Manual).
11. Conference with the instructor at any time during the semester by way of appointment.

Role and Responsibility of the Internship Supervisor

1. Set up an initial meeting with the SAGU student to discuss the Internship Manual, procedures and responsibilities involved in the Internship.
2. Orient the student to procedures unique to your program.
3. Accept the student as another professional while still recognizing that the responsibility for the student’s training and experiences remains yours.

4. Confer with your pastor and the SAGU Music Department immediately about any problems or if you ever feel that the student is acting in any way that is detrimental to your church.

5. Counsel weekly with the student in order to prepare the student for the week’s experience, to teach and help the student overcome any deficiencies in attitude, knowledge, experience, etc.

6. Delegate any tutorship opportunities that you can in order to increase learning opportunities for the student.

7. Take the student with you as much as possible in the performance of your duties such as visitation, professional and denominational meetings, seminars, clinics, planning sessions, etc.

8. Complete all of the evaluation forms and return them to the Internship instructor at SAGU (Appendix C).

Role and Responsibility of the Internship Pastor

Here are several principles to follow that will help you understand the intent of the internship experience for the student.

Principle 1:
Internships are a broad and overall exposure to practical ministry in the form of core experiences as prescribed in the Music Internship Manual for those doing their internships in a church setting.

Principle 2:
Internships are in-depth and specialized laboratory experience focused in the area of a student’s specific major specialization under the consultation of one’s supervisor.

Principle 3:
Internships emphasize practical hands-on experiences under the guidance of some proficient person as opposed to observation and collection of information. This experience should optimize a situation which best fits the student’s future projections in ministry.

Principle 4:
Internships are constructed according to the individual needs of students. Consequently, students are required to set personal goals expected in the laboratory experience at the beginning of the internship in consultation with the internship supervisor.

Pastoral Responsibilities:
1. Oversee the orientation of the internship student to the church program, facilities and activities.
2. Introduce the student to the staff and church.
3. Keep in contact with the internship supervisor. Be a support person and counselor as needed. Regular meetings with the student are recommended to ensure adequate communication, as well as periodic e-mails or phone calls to the SAGU internship supervisor.
4. Work with the internship supervisor to solve, in a professional manner, any problems that may arise.
5. Check with the internship supervisor on the student’s progress and observe the student if and when appropriate.
6. Keep the SAGU Music Department informed of any circumstances that you feel may be detrimental to the professional growth of the internship student.
7. With the internship supervisor, assist the SAGU Music Department in maintaining a superior program by offering solicited and unsolicited feedback on strengths and weaknesses of the student’s professional, academic and spiritual preparation as well as the logistics of the program itself.
8. When appropriate, participate in a final evaluation, discussion, and sharing session with the internship student.
Purpose of an Agreement of Participation

It is vital that all team members reach an agreement and define expectations during the early stages of the internship. To reach an agreement, the pastor, supervisor and student should meet to discuss expectations about the music internship. Discussion about the Agreement of Participation is of upmost importance for a clear understanding of the expectations.

Suggested items of discussion should include:

- Music Manual
- Music requirements as prescribed by SAGU in the Music Manual
- Feedback procedures (oral and/or written)
- Internship Plan
- Church policies, rules and expectations (written and unwritten)
- Methods of keeping communication lines open
- Evaluation forms

The student must work with the pastor and internship supervisor to complete the Agreement of Participation prior to the beginning of the internship.

AGREEMENT OF PARTICIPATION

I have read and understand the requirements set forth for the participating church, pastor, supervisor and student to fulfill the Music Internship for the semester. I will, to the best of my ability, adhere to these requirements for the successful completion of the internship.

This agreement was completed on _________________________ between _________________________, _________________________, and _________________________.

Guidelines for Use of the Manual

1. Make careful notations on everything you participate in or observe.
2. Answer all of the questions from a practical viewpoint. Be as analytical as possible, note alternative ways to do things, note strengths or weaknesses of present methods used.
3. Answer all of the questions fully. Do not just scratch in a word or two to get by. You will be graded on the quality of your manual. Also elaborate notations will be of tremendous help when you have to be the leader in all of these ministerial functions.
4. Place your typewritten pages of notes behind each item in the manual.
5. You can add bibliographical notes to the manual and also make references to material which you might add to your personal (or future church) music library or files.
