VIEW OF SOUTHWESTERN'S CAMPUS

SOUTHWESTERN ADDS JR. COLLEGE

Perhaps the greatest and most far reaching thing that has occurred recently in connection with Southwestern Bible Institute is the decision of the officials of the Texas District Council made in a recent meeting in Fort Worth, Texas, to establish a Junior College at Southwestern Bible Institute next year.

The plan is to discontinue the ninth grade of the High School department and add the first year of the Junior College next year, then add the second year of the Junior College the following year. There are many reasons why this is being done.

There is a great need for a Junior College for Pentacostal young people here in the South. The expense of starting it will not be excessive since there are plenty of classrooms here not in use. The dormitory space now occupied by the ninth grade high school students can be filled with college students. The educational qualifications, age and general attitude of the first year college students will be nearer an equality with the Bible school student.

The college student will be free from the ungodly surrounding and unsaved teacher, found in many colleges today. Terminal education will be made possible and preparatory work will also be offered for those who desire to complete the last two years of college work in a 4 year college or university.

The instructors will have higher qualifications and since they will also instruct in the senior high school it will give the high school a better trained faculty.

The business department will be

Graduates of Southwestern in times past have carried cherished memories with them of outstanding events, which happened during their school days. Even as students are pouring out of the gates of Southwestern, as are memorable events taking place.

GOD'S TIME CLOCK

The time clock is ticking the minutes away

Oh, won't you come to the Savior today?

"Tomorrow," you say; it may be too late

And you'll never see the pearly white gate.

The time clock is ticking, Oh, won't you say yes?

He'll take away sorrow and your soul will bless.

Your heart will be happy and full of joy

Nothing then can hurt you, no, nothing annoy.

The time clock still ticks and God's calling you

To work in His vineyard and help others too.

So don't neglect and turn Him away,

Give your whole life to Jesus this day.—Naomi Bush.

A RESOLUTION

Since this new year has begun we have thought continually of resolutions. The purpose, of course, is to better ourselves in some way, usually to overcome our bad habits and to create good ones. Also at this time of the year we can look on last year's resolutions and see how miserably we have failed in our own poor human power.

There is only one way to make salvation a lasting change in our lives, or to make a resolution last; and that is by walking daily with Jesus. To walk daily with Christ requires on our part the sacrifice of giving all to follow Him. The complete joy of our salvation comes when we put our all on the altar and leave it there.

There will be trials, but oh, how glorious the deliverance! In His own word He tells us there will not come a temptation too hard for us to bear, but with that temptation He will provide a way of escape! It has been said that the Rose of Sharon when crushed, gives off a most fragrant perfume. Sometimes the Lord has to crush us but then the fragrance and the sweetness of Christ saturates our whole being and others can tell that we have been with Jesus.

Nothing will be lost by giving all to Christ. Every single need in our life, no matter how great or how small, can be met in Him.

As you start out in the new year, students, walk daily with the Lord, for there is no happier life any where. Do not fear, put your trust in Him; "Behold, God himself is with us for our captain." 2 Chron. 13:12. What more could we ask or want in this life?—Lesley Stubbs.

HIGH SCHOOL HONOR ROLL

"Did you make the Honor Roll?" is a question you hear the students asking one another after the report cards are given out each six-weeks.

This past six weeks there were seventeen students in the high school who could answer yes. They made the Honor Roll, by having an "A" average in their work, an "A" in conduct in all classes, and not more than two demerits. These hard working students deserve special recognition:

Lawrence Akin
 Maxine Blakey
 Betty Bryan
 Esther Cox
 Beatrice Die
 Eddie Hughes
 Evelyn Jensen
 Fannie Enloe
 Betty Kitchens
 Robert Lee
 Julia Moore
 Laura Penland
 Letha Petty
 Joyce Purdon
 Calvin Spencer
 Mildred Yancy
 Ernestine Yelverton

There were several other students who came near receiving this honor. Just a little greater effort on their part next time and the group will be larger.

It is definitely worth the effort required to be placed on the Honor Roll! The requirements are low enough so that almost every studious pupil may receive this distinction if he will put forth the effort.

Those whose names appear on the Honor Roll gain more than just momentary recognition. They receive something worthwhile from school; develop habits of study that will be helpful throughout life and, most important of all, make a good record which will help them when they get out of school.

Students, records do count. Prospective employers write for your grades, the army wants to know about grades and regularity of attendance; and many colleges do not accept students with poor records. Determine to improve your grades, and, if possible, make the Honor Roll next time.—Joseph M. Gutel.

There was a wonderful atmosphere in the Friday morning service, but the power did not fall until the first period, when Bro. Miles turned the general music class over to a praise service for the students, calling on Brother Wayne Pitts to lead. The Spirit recharged the place that it thrilled the heart and soul of every student. There was such a broken feeling, that tears flowed freely from the eyes of almost everyone, some shook with sobs, as they poured out their hearts to God.

It is the general feeling that our prayers are being answered, and it might be added that our main prayer is still "God, make our

Strange Things Happen

• Rev. Cecil J. Lowry, former principal of S.B.I. •

SOMETIME ago a group of workmen in Rome were digging the foundation-work for a two-car garage. One near the center of the excavation suddenly threw up his arms and screamed. His friends looked, but to their amazement he was gone. Nothing was seen but a hole where he had been standing. A cave-in had occurred beneath his feet. He had fallen far below and lay groaning several feet beneath them.

Immediately men descended to his rescue. A rope was tied around the injured Italian and he was raised to the surface. The curious workmen, with their electric lights, began to explore the mysterious underground cave. They must have been alarmed beyond measure to discover themselves standing on the floor of an ancient church. How this church became buried in this manner they, of course, did not know. But the fact remained, it happened!

The auditorium was almost in perfect preservation. On one of its walls was a life sized portrait of St. Peter. The opposite wall contained a portrait of St. Paul. The paintings were by a Greek artist. It is believed by eminent Italian archaeologists that the apostles may have set for their portraits. The most interesting picture was on the panel of the transept; it was that of the twelve apostles with the Savior.

Only scientific observers have been permitted to explore this ancient edifice. Competent archaeologists have named it the "First Church of Rome." STRANGE THINGS HAPPEN!

Now you Latin students brush the cob-web from your memory. Can you recall the Tabularium, where the Archives of the Roman Republic were kept? Well, more than two stories of the old building now form the basement of the present Italian Capitol Building.

The thing I desire to say is this—archaeologists have been browsing around in some of these rooms (the building contains many secret rooms. Some have recently been opened and explored, but many have not as yet been found). They discovered an interesting and valuable document. Dr. J. O. Kinnaman said, "These reports were what would be called in the United States today, F.B.I. Reports."

It was the Emperor Justinian who, according to the document, sent his "F.B.I." men to Antioch, Syria to get the famed "holy grail"—the cup of the Last Supper. They arrived at the Church of Saint John, of Antioch where they interviewed the Church Sexton. When he refused to divulge any information regarding the whereabouts of the cup, he was brutally tortured in an effort to make him talk, but he refused.

The cup had been carried to Antioch by Saint Peter during the Jewish persecution of the Palestinian Christians, 36 A.D. The Roman "F.B.I." killed the Sexton but did not find the cup. They returned to Rome empty-handed.

In 1910 a Christian archaeologist, Dr. Eisen, was digging in Antioch near the old Church of Saint John. He discovered a beautiful silver Chalice—one of the most beautiful pieces of silversmith work, says Dr. Kinnaman, in the world—the work of a Greek silversmith. It was made some 17 years after the crucifixion of Jesus, or about 50 A.D.

It is adorned with the figures of the apostles together with that of Jesus all in semi-relief. But the interesting thing about the Chalice was what it contained. When it was opened, a silver cup, with a capacity of a little more than a quart, was found. Eleven pieces had been cut from its rim, evidently for souvenirs.

In the writings of such Christian archaeologists as Dr. J. O. Kinnaman you will find a fuller account of the above incidents, together with a wealth of other archaeological discoveries.

It is the consensus of Bible archaeologists that Dr. Eisen actually found the "Cup of the Last Supper." STRANGE THINGS HAPPEN!

About the time World War II started, Professor Gryaznov, of the Soviet Academy of Science of Eternal Frost made what is perhaps the strangest discovery ever made in Siberia.

He found 10 bay horses, saddled and bridled, with their eyes wide-open and every hair in place, standing in a barn made of axe hewn logs, partially buried in a deep layer of frozen sand and gravel. The location was near the north end of the Altai Mountains in Northern Siberia. As I understand it the barn was 50 feet beneath the surface buried in ice and sand.

Dr. Harold O. Whitnall, professor of Geology, of Colgate University, gave a description of the find in American Weekly, August 27, 1939.

I quote him: "The fact that these steeds were saddled and bridled would indicate that their owners were well aware of their peril, and ready to start on their flight south the moment the blinding blizzard should let up."

Christian thinkers are convinced that these horses were downed at the time of Noah's Flood along with the mammoths and the other animals. Like the mammoths the horses have half digested food in their stomachs. Many scholars believe that soon the house together with its occupants will be discovered.

Regarding the culture of that day Dr. Whitnall said, "The striking feature of these men is that, judged by the equipment on their horses, they belonged to a race of high-grade artists and artisans. The leather of their saddles is still splendidly preserved, and even the carved wood, when warmed up gave off an resinous odor. The wood, like the saddles and bridles, was handsomely inlaid with gold and tin foil, only slightly tarnished, after their long burial. Even the felt coverlets retain their color designs, such is the perfect preserving power of frost and darkness."

An interesting account of this can also be read in an article by B. F. Allen in the Signs of the Times, November 28, 1939. STRANGE THINGS HAPPEN!

There is a magazine called "The Protestant," which is neither Protestant nor Christian. It is sponsored by a group of socialists and radicals who bitterly oppose every distinctive doctrine of the Christian Religion. STRANGE THINGS HAPPEN!

An organization which has already put the Christmas and Easter programs out of some of the schools in America because of their hatred of Jesus Christ, is now sponsoring some 10,000 meetings of Christians and Jews in America every year. What is their purpose?

The false prophets in the days of Jeremiah and Isaiah hob-knobbed with the priests of Baal. So it is today! STRANGE THINGS HAPPEN.

Saint John said, "For many deceivers are entered into the world, who confess not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh. This is a deceiver and an anti-

FROM OUR

Superintendent

During December we have enjoyed a blessed time of fellowship in many of our Assemblies and fellowship meetings. We had a lovely visit in the Church at Seguin with Brother W. F. Bishop, the pastor. Also with Brother Troy Frazier and his church at San Angelo where God blessed in saving and refilling precious souls. At Abilene, where Brother Bill McCann is pastoring, there was a blessed time of fellowship with the ministers of the San Angelo Section; Brother Homer Sheets of Big Springs was also with us. We so much enjoyed our visit to the southland of our District. Brother Roy Evans is pastoring a good church there. Christmas Day we visited Brother O. N. Petty and enjoyed a good service with them in Bruni. Also at Laredo we visited our pastor of a new work, Brother R. B. Ring, who is doing a splendid job. The Lord gave us a joyous time while there. On our trip to Port Arthur we visited the First Assembly, where R. L. Davis is pastoring, for their business meeting. Following this we joined with the other churches in and around Port Arthur in a union Watch Night Service at Brother H. E. Smith's church. Thus we closed the year on our knees, and began the New Year on our knees also. We praise the Lord for His wonderful presence.

Brother H. M. Savage of Wichita Falls has been elected as presbyter of the Wichita Falls Section in place of Brother Lonnie Bowen, who has accepted the pastorate in Highland, Tex. in the Houston Section.

We welcome Brother Jim Sawyer back in our District, as he has accepted the pastorate at Edinburg. In response to a call Brother W. O. Ransom is now happily occupying the pastorate at the church in Brownsville. Brother A. M. Freeze has been called to the church at McAllen, and is now a full time pastor.

Letters From Missionaries

Of much interest to their many friends will be the following letter from Sisters Lula M. Ashmore and Evelyn Hatchett, missionaries to the Chinese in Cuba who were sent forth from our Texas District the first of November.

Apartado 2101
Havana, Cuba
December 7, 1943

Dear friends in Christ:

When this letter reaches you, you will no doubt be already caught in the current of the Christmas Season's Activities, but we would like to claim a few minutes of your time and share with you some of the Season's Joys.

Since coming to Havana, and having the past month to make further investigations regarding the work among the Chinese, we are more encouraged than ever with the possibilities of a good work here. When we speak to the Chinese about starting a Church for them they manifest a very enthusiastic spirit.

The opportunities as seen here bring an enlargement of vision, but with the growing of the vision our responsibilities increase, and the attainment of the vision means real work. It means work in the studying of two foreign languages; work in preparing messages in harmony with the thought of a foreign mind; work in prevailing prayer, and work in contacting the people. But our trust is in Him who said, "Behold, I am the Lord, the God of all flesh. Is there anything too hard for Me?"

We have been able to find a building for the Church in an ideal location in the heart of China town. This was surely an answer to the many prayers which preceded our coming here. The Chinese man who helped us to locate the building made this statement, "I have known years to pass without a vacancy on the first floor of a building in Chinatown. Surely the Lord has blessed in preparing this place for you." This is the only building available. It has just been refinished both inside and outside, and rents for $60.00 a month. It has a seating capacity of approximately one hundred.

At the present time we are making arrangements for the building of benches, and we trust to have all things in readiness so we can have the opening service sometime during Christmas Week. This will be one of our outstanding Christmas joys. We will be sharing with Christ in the joy He foresaw when He made Himself of no reputation, and took upon Himself the form of man: sharing in the joy that caused the heavenly hosts to swell the anthem of, "Peace on Earth. Good Will Toward Men." O, beloved, God is letting us share in this joy! —bringing glad tidings of good things to this people here. Even now as we write our joy knows no bounds, and tears of gratitude fill the eyes.

May you rejoice abundantly in Him during this Season, and we trust that you will not forget to pray earnestly for us as we labor here.

Yours in the bonds of Calvary,
Lula M. Ashmore,
Evelyn Hatchett

While the responsibility of Misses Ashmore and Hatchett to God and their calling may be consummated by the work of their hands and by daily contact with the unsaved of Cuba, we who 'feel no missionary call,' as we say, nevertheless have the equal responsibility of the saving of the lost orientals. Let us remember our missionaries in prayer as urgently as though their call was ours personally.

WELCOME

"The Church That Is Contending for The Faith"

The Highway

This life is a weary highway
That leads through a vale of tears,
A steep road up the mountain,
By the cave of doubts and fears;
But it ends in a land supernal,
A wonderous land afar,
Where the faithful live forever,
And the many mansions are.

And the years, like the olden milestones,
Mark out the long highway;
And the old years are behind us
In the past of yesterday.
But the future lies before us,
With all its weal and woe;
And the new year points us onward
To the miles we still must go.

And many there are who travel
This road so rough and steep:
But some of them fall and stumble,
And some lie down and sleep;
But others there are who journey
With never a will to stop
Until they've gained the privilege
Of resting at the top.

So on through the vale of sorrow,
And on by the cave of fears,
They travel toward the highlands
Through days and months and years,
Till from the highest mountain
They view the land afar,
And hail in the glad new morning,
The light of the Morning Star.

Christ . . . Whosoever transgresseth, and abideth not in the doctrine of Christ, hath not God. He that abideth in the doctrine of Christ, he hath both the Father and the Son. If there come any unto you, and bring not this doctrine, receive him not into your house, neither bid him God speed: For he that biddeth him God speed is partaker of his evil deeds." (II John 7-11).

My Brethren in Jesus Christ, the Christian Religion is the only Divinely established religion on earth. It has the only Savior to offer to humanity. It is "THE WAY" and must stand alone. However, the Bible tells us that Christianity shall harlotize at the end of the age and unite with the false religions of the world: See Revelation 17.

Paul said that "God shall send them strong delusion, that they should believe a lie: that they all might be damned who believe not the truth, but had pleasure in unrighteousness." (II Thessalonians 2:11-12.) This includes all modernists, but many Fundamentalists, including some of the pool-playing, beach-loving preachers, will be caught in the Devil's snare. STRANGE THINGS HAPPEN!

Fritz Kuhr, the Nazi Bundist, has been making Americans believe that to oppose Nazism makes one, not only a Communist, but a poor American; while Rex Stout and his Communistic gang are exposing anti-Socialists and anti-Communists as both un-American and Fascist. Of course, they dub militant Fundamentalists as Fascists.

My dear reader hear me as I speak from the depths of a burdened soul—burdened over the plight of the Church of Jesus Christ in this present world. Think it not strange if Christians are taken before courts and are thrown in jail for Jesus' sake. Jesus revealed that his Church in the end-time would be indicated on the charge of "not being a friend of Caesar." This has happened abroad and it must happen here! STRANGE THING HAPPEN!

The teacher believed in giving the class lessons in general knowledge. "What is this?" she asked one day, holding up a small object.

"A pay envelope," replied William, promptly.

"Good!" exclaimed the teacher, "And what does it contain?"

"Money," said William, "Your wages."

"Very good, William," she said beaming around the class, "Are there any questions about it?"

"Please teacher," remarked Robert, "Where do you work?"

More students excel in the dining room than any other place. And incidentally speaking of the dining room reminds us that too many students got 'fed up' during the Christmas holidays.

When we mention eating that also brings to our minds "Sea Food Dinners." If any of you are interested in knowing more about such delicacies we advise you to have Brother Kendrick give you one of his thirty second lectures on the subject. (It is reported from reliable sources that he is off them for life.)

So we come to the end of another chatter column, and as we do we offer this last bit of advise: SMILE AND GIVE OTHERS A REST.

FAITH says God said it, I believe it, and that settles it.

THOUGHTS FROM

and Miss Bessie Mae Pate, who has been serving under appointment in Mexico City, have been accepted and are now being sent out as missionaries to Chile, under Brother H. C. Ball by our Missions Department. We wish to recommend them for appointments in our churches. As they plan to call some time in the early spring we would appreciate it so much if you could assist them in their fare and equipment.

The District office welcomes back our dear Brother C. P. Robinson, who is just recovering from a two weeks' illness of flu.

Wishing for you and all the Churches the best year that you have enjoyed in the ministry of our Lord. Your brother in Jesus,
F. D. Davis
