Degree Path: B.S. in Psychology (Pre-Professional)

College of Bible and Church Ministries

22-23 Catalog

OVERVIEW

The purpose of the bachelor's degree in psychology is to prepare undergraduate students to provide quality educational and professional Christian service by gaining a comprehensive understanding of basic psychology and related disciplines. The Psychology degree provides the student integration of a biblical perspective interfaced with the foundations, concepts and basic skills of Psychology to include basic clinical and research methodology. The degree in psychology prepares the student for graduate psychology and related programs. At Southwestern, we offer graduate degrees in general psychology,, clinical mental health counseling and clinical psychology.

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

Southwestern psychology faculty members are more than just scholars—they are Spirit-filled believers with many years of clinical, administrative and teaching experience. Licensed professionals, they provide a teaching experience interfaced with their wide variety of clinical experience in the mental health field including medical centers and hospitals, outpatient clinics, prison settings, juvenile facilities, neuropsychological rehabilitation departments, private practice, the U.S. government and the military. Some of them also have prior teaching experience in public and private colleges and universities. For more information on SAGU faculty, refer to the faculty biographical area. Many of the SAGU psychology alumni have gained entrance into various graduate programs and become professionals in their field to include licensed psychologists, professors, human resource professionals, licensed counselors, lawyers and licensed social workers among others. The SAGU psychology program provides an expansive area of study over major domains in psychology. Besides classroom and research knowledge, the student gains practicum experience in the marketplace to include clinical and/or social service agencies and Christian outreach

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

Psychology will prepare students for careers in Rehabilitation, Crisis Agencies, Criminal Justice, Counseling Services, Compassion Ministries, Group Home Administration, Child Care, Missions, disaster Relief, Human Resources, and other fields, as well as positions as Psychology Technicians, Case Managers, Ministers, Juvenile Specialists, Mental Health Technicians, Addiction Specialists, and others.
